

DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

Dear Readers,

Welcome to the second edition of AIS Edge, a quarterly newsletter by AIS Glasxperts – India's only glass lifestyle solutions provider to bring together an integrated approach towards glass with a zeal to transform living and commercial spaces into masterpieces.

AIS Glasxperts matches its expert consultation, innovative concepts, and cutting-edge solutions to meet the unique visions of its valued clients. The company delivers modern, eco-sensitive aesthetics with unparalleled quality. We have proven to be the go-to element for architects and visionaries to elevate the expression of what a building is through structurally robust, elegant, and visually light designs.

I am proud to part of the team that makes this possible. In this edition of Edge, we talk about another one of our exclusive projects and insights from industry experts who are creating an architectural revolution.

We take your through our project with Mr. Arvind Sirohi done in collaboration with architect Tejeshwi Bansal from Chaukor Studio, Noida. We also explore what Mr. Anitya Chand, our customer, has to say about his experience with AIS Glasxperts.

Happy reading folks!

PROJECT HIGHLIGHTS

- Name of the Project: Mr. Arvind Sirohi
- Architect/PMC Name: Chaukor Studio, Tejeshwi Banshal
- Location: D-62, Sector 40, Noida
- Customer Requisite: The client was looking for an aluminium window that cut heat and dust while also enhancing security.
- Our Solutions: AIS Glasxperts is a leading provider of glass solutions. Our expert, in-house architects and installation team bring a 360-degree approach to every project, taking care of the client right from the design to the installation stage.

For this project, we recommended using a clear shade of high-performance, laminated solar glass with the frame fitted all around. This successfully tackled challenges of delivering solar control, heat reduction, optimum natural lighting in the interiors, safety, and security. We also completely sealed the frame in order to achieve absolute dust-proofing with no gaps and no water leakage. To enhance the aesthetics and efficiency of the space, we installed doors and sliders with an embedded bottom frame and Georgian bars.

- Final Result: We successfully installed aluminium windows keeping the safety and thermal control needs in mind. The windows brought a unique elegance to the space owing to our beautiful Georgian bars.

• Story Behind the Project: After several discussions on Zoom related to design finalisation, our architects and the client finalised the laminated Ecosense Enhance Clear Spring glass for their doors and windows. This delivered safety, UV protection, and thermal control. Additionally, they chose Georgian bars for its superior aesthetics.

We are delighted to say that the client was very pleased with the team's dedication and quality of work throughout the project – right from the suggestion of the sample colour to the final deliverable product. What's more, despite it being a difficult task, we installed arched windows with Georgian bars.

The finished project looked stunning and was worth all our efforts.

• AIS Product or Solution Used: Door and window frames with a laminated spring glass as well as a Georgian bar.

• Feedback: The client stated that our AIS door and window frames looked aesthetic in their space, and that they look forward to future collaborations with AIS Glasxperts.

CUSTOMER HIGHLIGHTS

At AIS Glasxperts, we strongly believe in offering the best quality of innovative, 360-degree solutions to our valued customers. An opportunity where we made this possible was in a residential project at The Pinnacle, Gurgaon.

Mr. Anitya Chand, the Joint Director of National Golf Academy of India, and our valued client, was looking to upgrade the doors and windows in his home. After a meticulous series of discussions with AIS and a visit to our showroom in Gurgaon, Mr. Chand chose the AIS door and window framing system for five rooms at his home. He was very pleased with the dedication to quality and convenience that AIS Glasxperts delivered, right from the planning stage to the final installation and finishing. We are proud to hear him say that the project successfully met his requirements and was custom-made to his satisfaction.

At AIS Glasxperts, we strive to outdo ourselves with every project, and impress our clients with our professional work ethic. Click here to watch Mr. Chand's testimonial of our commitment:
